

Time line of the project follows historical milestones when particular activities for the public were organized. The journey of hidden identities has commenced in Germany at the romantic castle Sacrow, which once served as a place for exchanging the secret agents between Eastern and Western Germany and the Berlin Wall went through its park. Here the first of the series of exhibitions took place. Symbolism of similar borderline areas is followed also by other projects in the participating countries – Slovakia, Austria, Hungary, Italy and Slovenia (Gorizia and New Gorica), Bulgaria and Greece (Plovdiv and Thessaloniki). It is important to capture the particularities of the specific local situations.
